WILL YOU SUPPORT MY EFFORTS?

Erin Warner of Nanaimo will take part in the 2013 Great Lake Walk in support of The Columbian Centre Society. This is the first year Erin is participating in the 56 km Walk for the Columbian Centre. "I need all the encouragement I can get to make it around Cowichan Lake!"

Columbian Centre is a charitable Nanaimo based organization demonstrating excellence in psychosocial rehabilitation for adults with mental health and addictions concerns, and/or cognitive challenges. We encourage a society that values and supports all people and engages communities through programs that promote recovery, social inclusion, safe housing and public education. The Society currently owns and operates five residences in Nanaimo B.C. serving approximately 30 adults.

Erin has enjoyed serving on the board for the last two years and currently is the Society's Treasurer.

She has two amazing children aged three and six. Erin has her own Chartered Accountant practice offering tax and accounting services. With her husband Derek, she enjoys photography and fitness activities.

"I volunteer for Columbian Centre because it is a positive force. The respect and friendship shown to everyone clearly works wonders for the restoration of mental health. I believe each one of us helps to make Nanaimo the compassionate community it is."
